

GSK ON TAP IS HERE TO HELP

We're open, prepared and ready to assist

Everyone around the country is – understandably – feeling a little apprehensive and uncertain at the moment. But life carries on and things still need to get done. We understand this, which is why we want to assure you that Yell for Yellow is here to help and ready to support you with whatever you need.

TUTOR

We're extending our hours: 15h00 – 21:00, Mondays to Thursdays.

As if teachers aren't amazing enough already, the teachers that form part of the Tutor service will be working during the school holidays. For parents with kids at home, use the telephonic helpline and ensure that your kids have as little disruption as possible to their school year.

ASSISTANT

If your new normal is working from home, use your Assistant service to help with all those necessary tasks. If you want to compare home fibre packages, need activity schedules for your kids, want to buy a more comfortable office chair or you're looking for hygiene products – let us help – we're available to you at any time, on any day. While #WorkFromHome is a reality, let GSK on Tap make it a little easier.

CONCIERGE DRIVER

With you and your family being more homebound in the next few weeks, make use of your driver service. We can collect items on your behalf, like medication and hygiene products that you urgently need, or we can take care of those tasks that entail going into public spaces like the post office, traffic department or banks.

Visit the website to confirm days of operation and what can and cannot be transported on your behalf. Please also remember to take the proper precautions after collecting or dropping off a parcel with the driver service. Wash your hands, wipe down the item and avoid touching your face after handling the package.
